While we enjoy the warm months, we're busy planning an unforgettable event for January 2026 – with perfect snow, exciting races, and legendary après-ski moments. Stay tuned for more updates, and get ready to reunite in Obertauern!

Feel free to share this newsletter with colleagues, business partners, or other finance professionals who might be interested. The more experts involved, the more valuable the event will be for everyone.

DID YOU KNOW?

It's the ultimate challenge for all those seeking an extra thrill – the "Gamsleiten 2." As one of the steepest slopes in Europe, even experienced skiers and snowboarders treat this deep black run with respect. Due to weather conditions, the slope can only be groomed irregularly, which makes it a fresh challenge every time. After fresh snowfall, the entire slope turns into a long powder run. Even the ride up on the nostalgic two-seater chairlift is an experience in itself.

HAVE YOU BOOKED YOUR HOTEL YET?

Obertauern is a very popular ski resort – to make sure you get a great place to stay, we recommend booking as early as possible.

Our reserved room blocks are available until August 31.

After that, they'll be released and open to the general public. From September 1, you'll need to arrange your own accommodation, and we can't guarantee availability anymore.

We recommend booking half board – it's convenient and hassle-free. Of course, if you prefer more flexibility, Obertauern also offers plenty of great dining options outside the hotel.

You can cancel free of charge until August 31, so there's no risk in booking early. After this date, the cancellation policies of the individual hotels will apply.

HISTORY OF OBERTAUERN

Obertauern, one of Austria's most famous ski resorts, has transformed from a remote mountain pass into an internationally renowned winter destination. Originally inhabited by farmers and shepherds who used the rugged terrain for livestock grazing, Obertauern began offering simple summer accommodations for hikers in the early 20th century. The breakthrough came in 1955 with the construction of the first ski lift. By the 1960s, the ski area grew rapidly due to its snow-sure location and modern lifts, becoming a popular destination for winter sports enthusiasts.

With further expansions and the development of its après-ski offerings in the 1980s, Obertauern flourished. Today, the resort offers over 100 kilometers of slopes and attracts numerous international visitors every year.

In addition to winter tourism, Obertauern has also become a popular destination for hikers and mountain bikers. The region has evolved into a year-round getaway, offering something for every type of traveler.

Obertauern remains a fascinating example of the growth of an alpine resort, drawing visitors with its combination of nature, sports, and relaxation
